

Humanitarian Innovation Programme

11 December 2014 (08.30-16.00)

Time	Place	Activity
08.30-09.00	Peace room	Welcome & coffee
First Session: Humanitarian innovation: what is it and what problems does it respond to?
Chair: Maria G. Jumbert (PRIO)
09.00-10.00	Peace Room	What is innovation in the humanitarian field? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Conceptual introduction on “humanitarian innovation” – Kristin B. Sandvik • Tour de table: what does innovation mean in your field/your organizations’ work?
10.00–11.00	Peace Room	Concrete examples of innovation <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Organizations’ own innovations or innovations that have been particularly beneficial (presenters to be confirmed)
11.00-11.40	Peace Room	What are the needs in the field? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • What solutions to what problems? • Assessing the supply driven aspect of humanitarian innovation
11.40-12.00	Peace Room	Wrap up and defining next steps
12.00-12.30	Peace Room	Lunch: sandwiches, fruit & coffee
Second Session: Academic workshop
Chair: Kristin B. Sandvik (PRIO)
12.30-14.30	Peace Room	Presentations of academic work in progress: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Kristin B. Sandvik: Mapping the field of humanitarian innovation • Maria G. Jumbert: Humanitarianism and its new settlements • Henrik Urdal & Håvard Nygård: Early warning technologies and the PRIO conflict prediction project • Andreas Forø Tollefsen: GIS and spatial data in research on civil wars • Brita Fladvad Nielsen: Humanitarian Design and innovation theory • Per Endre Skårvik: Design and aid, the example of UNICEF in Uganda • Others tbc.
14.30–14.45	Peace Room	Coffee & fruits
14.45-16.00	Peace Room	Discussion: needs for future research and potential avenues of collaboration